

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Volunteering Opportunity

The Journal is opening a call for Materials Review Assistant Editors. Qualifications include: huge love for books and published educational Pre-K to 16 materials; experience in book review writing or enthusiasm for book reviews; knowledge of APA style sheets and willingness to join a team of editors and work collaboratively. MA a requirement, Ph.D preferred. We look forward to our membership, in particular, joining our ranks but all readers are welcome to apply. Please contact lubie@journal.nystesol.org for further information, or send your Letter of Intent and an up-to-date CV to lubie@journal.nystesol.org

10th Anniversary Issue CALL for the Readers' Favorite Articles

NYS TESOL Journal is thrilled to announce the preparation of our 10th anniversary issue, to be published in February 2023. This issue will consist of many guest invited articles, but we very much want to hear from YOU - our NYS TESOL members and NYST Journal readers.

Please send us your comments and views of the most relevant, interesting, unusual or useful articles that you have read in the past 10 years. Send your short 400 word description of your favorite article and reasons for choosing it to: lubie@journal.nystesol.org by September 30, 2022.

Call for Submissions for Volume 10, Issue 2, to be published in July 2023:

Will open on October 15, 2022 and

Close on February 15, 2023.

Please check our website on October 15, 2022 for further information.
